What can you do

about being anywhere and

running out
of paths but
going forth, any-

way, and returning,
and not knowing
the place again?